

PG&E Boston, MA

US Generating & International Generating Inc., now PG&E, selected Brookstone Builders, Inc. to renovate their corporate offices, which were located in Boston MA.

As the restoration project's Construction Manager, Brookstone Builders completed 49,000 square feet of high-end executive office space on seven floors of an eleven story office building. We were responsible for all scheduling, labor, equipment and services.

With the cooperation of all parties, including the owner's staff, architect and all vendors, the scope-of-work for all seven floors was completed on time and within the GMP.

This work was accomplished while the owner continued to perform business as usual in this building, requiring special attention to noise-abatement, dust-abatement and safety.

Architect(s): BECHTEL FRANK & ERICKSON